PRIVACY NOTICE FOR SUPPLIERS

Last update: 30-03-20

Scottish Power UK Plc and its subsidiaries (together “Scottish Power”) has, in partnership with other members of its wider corporate group (the “Iberdrola Group”), developed a tool to manage its relations with suppliers interested in participating in tenders for the awarding of contracts with Scottish Power. This tool (hereinafter, indistinctly, the “Portal” and the “Register of Potential Suppliers and Suppliers”) is managed by Scottish Power’s parent company, Iberdrola S.A. and the information that it contains at any time as a result of interactions with third parties (interested suppliers, homologated suppliers and contracted suppliers) is accessible to all companies of the Iberdrola Group, some of which are established outside of the European Economic Area. The list of such companies can be accessed at https://www.ScottishPower.com/wcorp/gc/prod/en_US/corporativos/docs/IB_Annual_Financial_Information.pdf

Therefore, for the purposes of personal data protection laws and regulations, we inform you that any information about suppliers and potential suppliers that we obtain, whether as a result of a request to register in the Portal or otherwise, may result in such information being included in the Portal and being accessed by any member of the Iberdrola Group.

ScottishPower commits to protect your privacy and to comply with applicable personal data protection laws and regulations, in particular, the General Data Protection Regulation (“GDPR”), the UK Data Protection Act 2018 and (and any updates to such legislation as a result of Brexit or otherwise). Your personal data will be processed in a lawful, fair and transparent manner; according to explicit and legitimate purposes; and only to the extent it is relevant and necessary for such purposes. In addition, we will keep your personal data accurate, up to date and for no longer than legally permitted.

Scottish Power has implemented technical and organisational measures to protect your personal data from accidental loss and from unauthorised modification, access, use and disclosure. We have established procedures to respond in the event of a security incident that affects your personal data.

Through this privacy notice we inform you about the processing of your personal data (a) during your contractual relationship with ScottishPower, and (b) after the conclusion of such relationship for the purposes of: (i) complying with the legal obligations to which Scottish Power may be subject (ii) for your continued registration as a supplier in the Register of Potential Suppliers and Suppliers (iii) to maintain historical information of the relations of ScottishPower with its suppliers and (iv) to consider you for future contracting processes of ScottishPower.

If we update this privacy notice, we will notify you in a timely manner.

In the event that, as a result of the contractual relationship with ScottishPower you provide us with third party data, for example, name, position and contact data of your employees, directors, officers, shareholders or representatives, you must, before providing us with their personal data, inform such third party about the processing of their personal data in accordance with the terms of this privacy notice.

Who is responsible for processing your personal data?

The data controllers of your personal data are (i) ScottishPower UK Plc, or such other member of the ScottishPower corporate group with whom you have a contractual relationship; and (ii) Iberdrola, S.A. as operator of the Portal.

You may contact our Data Protection Officer at dataprotection_corporate@scottishpower.com

What personal data do we collect and process from you?

The personal data that we may collect from you belongs to the following categories:

- Data of an identifying nature: names, passport details, tax identification number, foreigners' identity number, postal address, landline/mobile telephone, email, image and signature. In case of the contact person, their professional email address, for authentication purposes.
- Data related to personal characteristics: civil status, family data, date and place of birth, age, gender, nationality, languages.
- Academic and professional data: professional activity, training, qualifications, professional experience, memberships in professional associations, occupation and job title.
- Economic, financial and insurance data: Bank data for transfers and payments.
- Business activities: services provided.

We may request that you provide original documentation and deliver a copy of it, as evidence to support the information you have submitted.

How do we collect your personal data?

You provide us with your personal data when registering in the Register of Potential Suppliers and otherwise in your interactions with us.

If you do not provide us with any requested personal data, we may not be able to register you as a supplier. We also be unable to comply with our contractual or statutory obligations.

We ask that you update your personal data as it changes and to always provide accurate information, as we must have your current information.

For what purposes do we process your data?

Scottish Power will only process your personal data in accordance with the following purposes:

- a) Periodically verify that you comply with the requirements set out during the supplier qualification process when you registered as a supplier to Scottish Power.
- b) Manage your participation in purchasing processes.
- c) Maintenance, development and control, in all its aspects, of our relationship with you.
- d) Internal management of suppliers.
- e) Preparation of surveys, statistics and internal reports.
- f) Sending communications related to sustainability, ethics and compliance.
- g) Collection and payment management.
- h) Administrative management.

- i) Management of the coordination of business activities and prevention of occupational hazards and health and safety incidents.
- j) Submission of tax information.
- k) In connection with administrative and judicial proceedings and actions before public authorities.
- l) Management of complaints and inquiries, analysis of possible conflicts of interest and analysis of solvency, anti-corruption, fraud or related risks.
- m) Control of access to facilities and other security activities.
- n) In relation to business email addresses, ensuring user verification.
- o) Invitation to information sessions and supplier awards.
- p) To maintain records of previous agreements entered into between Scottish Power and you for assessment purposes in relation to future contracts.
- q) To comply with applicable legal, regulatory, governmental or judicial requirements, requests and orders.

We will only use your personal data for the purposes for which it was collected, unless we reasonably consider that we need to use it for another reason and that reason is compatible with the original purpose. If you wish to obtain an explanation as to how the processing for the new purpose is compatible with the original purpose, please contact us.

If we need to use your personal data for an unrelated purpose, we will notify you and explain the legal basis which allows us to do so.

In relation to the purpose indicated in section l), specifically in relation to the risk analysis, we inform you that in the performance of such analysis we may use personal data of individuals (representatives, directors, officers or shareholders) linked to you which is legitimately obtained from public records or some companies as or of some companies as Refinitiv <https://www.refinitiv.com/en/products/world-check-kyc-screening/privacy-statement>, Dow Jones <https://dilogin.dowjones.com/privacy/default.aspx?fcpi=en> or Informa. You should inform such persons that their data will be processed in accordance with this privacy notice.

What is the legal basis for the data processing?

The legal basis for the processing of your data, for the purposes indicated in sections a), b), c), and g), if the personal data belongs to the contact persons or representatives of a supplier that is a corporate entity, it is the legitimate interest of ScottishPower in managing existing and future relations with such supplier. If the personal data belongs to a supplier that is an individual, the legal basis for the processing is the performance of the contractual relationship.

The legal basis for the processing of personal data for the purposes indicated in sections i), j) and q) is to comply with legal obligations.

The legal basis for the processing of personal data for the purposes indicated in section l) is the public interest and the legitimate interest of Scottish Power in the creation and maintenance of information systems through Scottish Power can be made aware of acts that contravene laws or the internal policies of Scottish Power or Iberdrola.

The legal basis for the processing of personal data for the purposes indicated in section m) is the public interest in preserving the security of people and property, as well as of the facilities of Scottish Power and the legitimate interest in controlling access to such facilities to guarantee their security and the security of people and property.

The legal basis for the processing of personal data for the purposes indicated in sections d), e), f), h), k), n), o) and p) is the legitimate interest of Scottish Power in, respectively, (i) adequately administering and organizing our relations with suppliers, (ii) improving relationships with suppliers and obtaining related statistics, (iii) promoting awareness regarding sustainability, ethics and compliance, (iv) maintaining an adequate internal management of the ScottishPower corporate group, (v) defending legal claims, (vi) managing the security of our computer networks, ethical compliance including the prevention of fraud and money laundering, (vii) inviting you to events and (viii) keeping records of contracts to facilitate future agreements with you.

Please note, we may process your personal data for more than one legal basis, depending on the specific purpose for which we are using your data. Please contact us if you need details about the specific legal ground we are relying on to process your personal data.

How long do we store your data?

Personal data processed for the purposes specified in b), c), d), g), h), i), j), k), l), n) and q) will be kept for the period of time necessary to comply with the purpose for which it was collected and in any case until the end of the contractual relationship. Personal data may be kept after that, until after the expiration of the statute of limitations of any potential obligations or liabilities that ScottishPower may have.

Personal data processed for the purposes envisaged in paragraph a) shall be kept for as long as the supplier maintains the status of authorised supplier and provided that it has not notified ScottishPower its decision not to participate in future tenders organized by ScottishPower.

Personal data processed for the purposes set for in letter e) will be kept until the finalisation of the survey, statistic or report.

Personal data processed for the purposes set forth in letters f) and o) will be kept until the time you exercise your right to oppose to the processing.

Personal data processed for the purposes of complying with the purposes set forth in letter m) will be kept for one month from the date it was collected, at which time it will be deleted unless necessary to keep such information for evidential purposes.

Personal data collected for the purposes intended in paragraph p), shall be kept by ScottishPower beyond the termination of the agreement and for as long as you have an interest in being engaged by ScottishPower provided that, accordingly, you have not objected to such use of the personal data.

Who will receive your data?

Your personal data may be shared with third parties and public authorities (i) when necessary for the management, performance or enforcement of our contractual relationship, including where required to comply with our obligations or exercise our rights, (ii) if we are required to do so by law or regulation, or (iii) to comply with court orders, legal, governmental, judicial or regulatory requests.

We may share your data in connection with corporate transactions, including during the course of due diligence processes related to such transactions.

Your personal data will be accessible by affiliates and third parties that provide services related to our contractual relationship such as information services on creditworthiness or credit risk, billing and payment services, accounts payable management, consulting services and preparation of reports and reporting, computer services, training services, surveillance and security services. We sign contracts with third party service providers which regulate their obligations as data processors.

Your personal data may be communicated to Iberdrola Group companies that may be interested in contracting with you. Such companies of the Iberdrola Group are those listed on the corporate website: https://www.ScottishPower.com/wcorp/gc/prod/en_US/corporativos/docs/IB_Annual_Financial_Information.pdf

Where your personal data is transferred to companies of the Iberdrola Group located outside of the European Economic Area (EEA), ScottishPower will ensure that such transfer is made in accordance with GDPR, that is, in accordance with an appropriate safeguard.

In any case, transfers of personal data will take place in accordance with the applicable legal basis and respecting the principles of fairness, loyalty, transparency and purpose limitation, among others. You may, at any time, contact ScottishPower to find out the specific measures that have been implemented for the adequate and appropriate protection of your personal data, as well as the fact that they have been implemented.

What are your rights?

You have the right of access to your personal data, as well as to request the rectification of inaccurate data or, where appropriate, to request its erasure when data is no longer necessary for the purposes for which it was collected, in addition to exercising the right to object and restrict the processing and data portability.

You can exercise these rights by writing us at dataprotection_corporate@scottishpower.com or Data Protection Officer, Scottish Power UK Plc, 320 St Vincent Street, Glasgow, G2 5AD.

You also have the right to file a complaint with the Information Commissioner's Office if you are dissatisfied with the response provided by ScottishPower regarding the exercising of any of your rights.

Brexit

In the event of the UK leaving the European Union ("Brexit"), the UK will be deemed to be a "third country" for the purposes of the GDPR. Most of your rights and our obligations will remain the same under GDPR and the Data Protection Act 2018 (subject to any amendments required due to Brexit). As part of your contractual relationship with Scottish Power, we may transfer your data within our group of companies, from the EU to the UK or from the UK to the EU. It may also be processed by one of our group companies or by a third party service provider in the UK or the EU. In the event of Brexit, any transfer or processing of your personal data in those ways will be classed as an international transfer. However, we will ensure that we have appropriate contractual mechanisms in place that will allow the safe transfer and processing of your data in accordance with applicable data protection legislation in force at that time.
